

Maarten Huijser

Front-end developer

Profile

I am a creative front-end developer with a graphic background. Learning new things is something I strive for, it doesn't matter if it is something very small and simple or something very complex. I never shy away from these challenges.

Work experience

Junior web developer & technical support engineer
(2021-heden)

At Officebooking I was part of the development team where we develop new and existing functionalities developed to refresh the application and improve. In addition to developing the application I also provided assistance to customers when there were technical issues support was needed. Think about arranging integrations and technical questions.

Junior front-end developer and animator
Panart Rhoon
(2020-2021)

PanArt is a full service agency for online communication. At Panart I had the position of developers. I was responsible for making websites (Wordpress), and maintaining them websites. In addition to my work as a developer I also helped Panart in the maintenance of their mail server and performed maintenance on the servers on which the websites run.
